Funding and Finance Factsheet 8

Introduction

Transport for London (TfL) is chaired by the Mayor of London, and is part of the Greater London Authority. We are the integrated transport authority responsible for delivering the Mayor’s strategy and commitments on transport.

As a core element in the Mayor’s overall plan for the Capital, our purpose is to keep London moving, working and growing, and to make life in our city better. We reinvest all of our income to run and improve our transport services and to make them safer, more modern and affordable for everyone. This sustained investment makes it possible to deliver real improvements for the millions of people who use our network every day.

Project cost

The proposal to upgrade Camden Town station is estimated to cost around £250m, based on it being finished by the end of 2024. Its funding is secured as detailed below:

- The TfL Business Plan for the period 2017 to 2020/21 commits £120m to the scheme. This Plan was approved by the TfL Board and published in December 2016.

- Beyond 2021, we will secure the remaining funds to ensure its completion by 2024
